AS THE NEWS BREAKS

(By Associated Press)

Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 2.—The merger of two churches, the Taylor Street and First Presbyterian church, was to be voted on today by the members of the organizations here. Pending the merger services have alternated from one church to the other during recent weeks. In case the merger is effected, the new congregation would number about one thousand.

Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 2.—Thirty-five high school seniors were to be graduated here today, the close of the winter term of the public schools.

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 2.—The present month will see the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway of Texas start in on a program of permanent improvement which will involve the expenditure of $2,500,000 this year, according to announcement by W. A. Webb, chief operating officer of the Texas lines. Mr. Webb said the Texas lines will spend $10,000,000 within the next three years. C. E. Schaff, receiver of the road, already has been authorized to purchase $1,500,000 worth of new equipment, consisting of locomotives, freight and passenger cars.

The work of ballasting the roadbeds is far advanced and 5,000 men are at work laying crushed rock gravel and burnt clay. Six large steel bridges are included in the program of improvements.

Austin, Tex., Jan. 28.—The question whether the state of Texas still owns the mineral rights to lands sold by the state to private individuals is expected shortly to be brought at issue in mandamus proceedings instituted by a large oil producing company against Land Commissioner Robison. The oil company will seek to compel the land commissioner to grant a lease of certain oil lands on the theory that the mineral rights did not pass to the present holders when the land was bought from the state as public land. The attorney general has ruled that all mineral rights pass to the purchaser, while the land commissioner insists that the mineral rights still belong to the school fund. The commissioner has been compelled to decline to lease such lands in view of the attorney general's ruling. Should this question be decided in favor of the oil company it will launch a new industry for the state, that of selling oil rights and profiting off the royalties. It also will disturb operations in several oil fields, as much of the land now being worked originally was public land and sold under the act of 1883, the law under question now.

Austin, Tex., Jan. 28.—Many oil producers are escaping payment of much of the gross receipts tax because of a misconstruction of the law, which Ed House, state revenue agent, says includes royalties as well as equity in the property. Much more money is expected to be collected henceforth.

CHAMPION GIRL CANNER OF TEXAS

Miss Bernice Carter Announces 25 Girls Making the Highest Record in the Whole State.

Denton, Tex., Feb. 2.—Miss Annie Wolf of Mineral is the winner from among the canning club girls of Texas of the scholarship to the College of Industrial Arts, announces Miss Bernice Carter, state agent for canning club and home demonstration work. The work of the twenty-five girls making the highest records throughout the state was judged at the conclusion of the three weeks' course for the canning club and home demonstration agents which has just been held by the College of Industrial Arts.

The scholarship won by Miss Wolf is that offered by Miss M. Eleanor Brackenridge of San Antonio, a member of the board of regents of the College of Industrial Arts. It is worth $300 each year until graduation. Miss Brackenridge is the donor of several scholarships, all of which have been eagerly sought by hundreds of young women anxious to attend this particular college. Miss Wolf will probably enter the freshman class.

Another scholarship granted at this time which is worth $150 each year was awarded Miss Willie Haworth of Weatherford, who will enter Baylor College at Belton. Miss Haworth ranked first in the canning club work, but was not sufficiently advanced to enter the College of Industrial Arts. All star gold pins are being sent to the twenty-five girls from the various sections of the state who have made the highest records. They are Misses Gladys Story, Alice; Henrietta Bieault, Grapevine; Annie Wolf, Mineral; Lila
